Enclosed is your 2014-2015 Financial Aid Notification Letter. This letter tells you the amount of financial aid or scholarship that you have been awarded for the 2014-2015 academic year. The aid listed on your Notification Letter is organized by quarter, and each type of aid is listed separately. If any quarter is not listed, this means you have not been awarded aid for that quarter. (If you need aid for a quarter not listed contact the Financial Aid Office immediately.)

Please note that financial aid for Summer Quarter 2015 requires a separate summer application, which will be available in spring, 2015.

Conditions of Award

When you receive financial aid, you agree to several conditions. See the enclosed “Conditions of Award” document.

Canceling Aid Awarded

If you are not accepting some of the aid awarded, notify the Financial Aid Office within two weeks.

Are You Registered for the Right Number of Credits?

You must be registered for the appropriate number of credits each quarter, and enrolled in classes that apply to your degree, in order to receive your financial aid or scholarship funds. What is the appropriate number of credits? All initial awards are based on full-time enrollment of 12 or more credits unless otherwise indicated on your Financial Aid Notification Letter.

If you do not plan to enroll for 12 or more credits, you should notify the Financial Aid Office in writing after you have completed your registration. In most cases, financial aid grants will be reduced proportionately to your credit load. However, some grants are not available to students taking fewer than 6 credits, and students with full-time Pell eligibility of $367 or less per quarter may not be eligible to receive Pell at a reduced course level.

If you register for fewer than 12 credits and do not notify the Financial Aid Office in writing at least one week prior to the start of the quarter, you may experience delays in receiving your funds.

Courses Not Eligible for Financial Aid Funding

Adult Basic Education, Running Start, High School Completion, Community Education, Non Q Correspondence and short-term Seminars.
Will You Owe any Money Out-of-Pocket for your Tuition and Fees?

If the total of your grants is less than your tuition and fees charges, you must pay the difference to the Cashier after your financial aid has applied to your account (10 days before the quarter starts). To avoid lines pay your balance on-line.

If the total of your grants is greater than your tuition and fee charges, you will receive a refund for any funds that remain after your tuition and fees are paid. (See “Disbursement” process below).

Work-study funds are not available at the beginning of the quarter. They must be earned (see Work-study description on the opposite page).

If you have an outside scholarship, a private educational loan, or any type of aid from your home state that you are counting on to pay all or part of your tuition and fees, and the funds do not arrive by the tuition due date, please contact the Financial Aid Office for assistance.

Financial Aid Disbursement Process

Financial aid refund disbursement begins the first day of each quarter.
To receive your refund, you must activate your refund choice with your Higher One card:

1. Use your Higher One debit card
2. Receive your refund with your current bank account
3. Have your refund mailed to you

See “How to Avoid Problems And Delays” below

Repayment of Financial Aid Grants

Students, who withdraw from all of their classes, stop attending their classes, or who complete zero credits, may be required to repay a portion of the financial aid grants they received for that quarter. Repayments are computed in accordance with federal regulations and the college’s refund policy. The Financial Aid Office will notify students who owe a repayment.

Copies of the complete repayment policy are available in the Financial Aid Office.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

To be eligible to receive financial aid funding, you must make Satisfactory Academic Progress each quarter.

Seattle Central’s Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress policies are listed on the back page of this document.

<td>Seattle Central offers two types of Federal grants – the Federal Pell Grant and the Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG). These grants are considered a form of “gift aid” because they do not have to be repaid, provided students complete their courses. The Financial Aid Office determines eligibility for Federal grants, after students complete the financial aid application process.</td>
<td>Work-study programs offer students the opportunity to gain valuable work experience while earning money for college. Students are able to enhance their current course work as well as their future profession by integrating classroom learning with real-world work experience. Both on-campus and off-campus work-study positions are available.</td>
<td>Federal Direct loans must be paid back, so please consider other funding options to pay for school first. Complete Federal Direct Loan Program details, including an overview, tools, resources, and managing repayment are available online at: https://studentloans.gov</td>

<td>The Washington State Grants, like the Federal grants mentioned above, is a form of “gift aid” that does not have to be repaid, provided students complete their courses. This grant is available to Washington State residents with high financial need. The Washington Need grant amount received cannot exceed a student’s quarterly tuition charges and will be adjusted each quarter. The Financial Aid Office determines eligibility, after students have completed the financial aid application process.</td>
<td>Students receive their work-study funds in the form of a paycheck from their employer based on their hourly wage and the number of hours they have worked in any given pay period. Please note that because work-study funds must be earned, they are not available at the beginning of the quarter to help students pay their tuition and fees. Work-study earnings can be used to meet current expenses, such as supplies, transportation, or living expenses, or they can be saved in a personal bank account to help pay expenses for an upcoming quarter. Available work-study positions are posted in the Career Services Center, room 1102E.</td>

<td>Seattle Central does not endorse any particular lender. We encourage students to do research on their own, to contact several lenders, and to compare the various terms and conditions of the loans before deciding to borrow. Petitions are reviewed by a committee of financial aid professionals.
