Seattle Central Retention: 2006-2007 compared to 2010-2011

The information displayed below compares Seattle Central Community College’s retention between the 2006-2007 and the 2010-2011 academic years. The 2006-2007 academic year is used as a benchmark to measure progress. Retention percentages are based on state funded students who enroll in Fall quarter and subsequently reenrolled in Winter and Spring quarters (it does not reflect completions or transfers to other colleges or universities).

For academic transfer students, the fall-to-winter retention rate increased by four percentage points (from 69% in 2006-2007 to 73% in 2010-2011) and the fall-to-spring retention rate increased by six percentage points (from 57% in 2006-2007 to 63% in 2010-2011). For professional/technical students the fall-to-winter retention rate remained the same (83% in 2006-2007 and 2010-2011) as did the fall-to-spring rate (73% in 2006-2007 and 2010-2011).
